As the years passing by, every time theres a new innovations of the technology, each innovations bring lots of interest that help the businesses grow and secure their data. As one of those dev based in my experience, Adapting new technology is a must, where they offering latest counter for security threats and data handling. I experience creating security filter chain for API handling, printing data like receipt for thermal printers, sending receipts through emails where the data was encrypted during sending. These are some of my experince while working in my project. I'm excited to learn more new upcoming innovations
